

MASTER OF ARTS

ROMANCE LANGUAGES: FRENCH

Interested in studying French?

Mizzou's two-year MA program in French offers a multi-disciplinary curriculum with an emphasis on contemporary culture, media, film studies, literature, contemporary critical theory and practice, and language workshops.

Learn about French and Francophone literatures and cultures from experts

- Participate in an array of co-curricular and extra-curricular opportunities
- Explore research opportunities and participation with a variety of instructional possibilities
- Participate in programming with the school's Afro-Romance Institute
- Gain teaching experience with potential teaching assistantship and compete for the opportunity to receive scholarship funding

Career paths of graduates

- Pursue a PhD in French or Francophone Studies
- Work for international agencies
- Provide interpretive skills and cultural background for the global community

Mary Jo Muratore

Director of Graduate Studies, French

✉ muratorem@missouri.edu

LEARN MORE: SLLC.MISSOURI.EDU/FRENCH

School of Languages,
Literatures, and Cultures

University of Missouri